Between the covers of this book, we have attempted to portray the spirit and life of James Monroe High School. With camera, pen, and ink, the staff has sought to create a pictorial record of the events and activities at James Monroe. May the 1965 MONROE ECHO long recall to memory the joys of the past year.

ROBERT A. HODGE

Dedication

We the Senior Class proudly dedicate the 1965 MONROE ECHO to one of James Monroe's most distinguished faculty members. He has been recognized as one of Virginia's most knowledgeable and talented science instructors.

In addition to his academic contributions to school life, this individual has unselfishly aided the students in their extra-curricular activities. The Senior Class wishes to express its especial gratitude and appreciation to MR. ROBERT A. HODGE, a devoted teacher, and a willing advisor.

Mr. Hodge receives the dedication.

In Memoriam

MR. PAUL G. HOOK

This page is in memory of the late, PAUL G. HOOK, Superintendent of the Fredericksburg City Schools. For many years Mr. Hook devoted his efforts to the welfare of Fredericksburg young people and the improvement of their minds through education.

Faculty From Student Viewpoint

"Now, it's this way class..."

There's never a dull Speech Class!

"Did we read the same chapter?"

Guidance teamwork.

Don't give in, Mr. Stafford.

"Watch out Mr. Vass!"

"You'll never find 'X' this way class."

Music to learn by.

"And his last words were 'Et tu, Brute?'."

Our leader at work.

Is it that bad, Mrs. Burton?

"Identify the specimen and pass it to your right."

French students in the library.

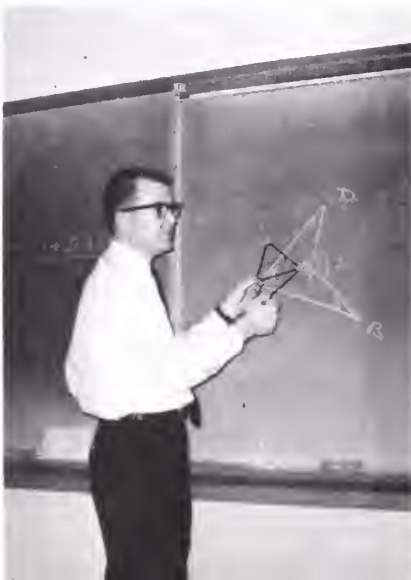

"Hunter, are you sure that's the title."

Mr. Martin shows how it's done.

"Can you see it now?"

GOALS FOR TOMORROW

Before us a vast, complex world expands.
We enter it with great hope and ambition
Wishing to realize our dreams and our plans
And to complete in life our destined mission.

Cooperating with others and accepting responsibility
With no job too big or too small to undertake
Fulfilling our work with all our ability—
The very success of our country at stake.

Aiming for peace and working to achieve
Freedom for all and elimination of strife,
To help and to relieve all people in need
Are the foremost objectives in our life.

To work for today with hope for tomorrow
For a land free from misery, trouble, and sorrow.
To want to lead others and not to be led
In the world of challenge that lies ahead!

Class History

The year 1953 was the red letter year in the history of the Fredericksburg city schools. That was the year that the James Monroe High School seniors of the Class of '65 began their education at Lafayette and Maury Elementary Schools.

In our first year Jan Ashby reigned as the undisputed master of the Golden Glove. We are sure that Mike Garnett will remember his moment of unfortunate frustration when he received a broken nose at the hands of Miss Ashby.

John Wayne Edwards also established a reputation for broken bones. He managed to suffer at least one such casualty every year.

School time entertainment was enjoyed during May Day celebrations and frequent trips to historical shrines in town and to Washington, D.C. Weekend activities included record hops at the Community Center.

The outstanding portion of our elementary education was experienced in our seventh grade year at Maury. Patsie Butler presided over the Student Cooperative Association. We took a class trip to Richmond and visited the Governor's Mansion and the state Senate. George Nance and John Heard left their marks in Richmond in the form of BB's in the batter at the FFV cookie factory. After our glorious graduation, all attended a picnic at Stafford Wayside Park.

The following September, everyone became elite eighth graders. Our leaders for the first year were Stuart Jones, president and Ann Earnhardt, secretary-treasurer. We experienced large scale merit tests and strenuous exams for the first time, but we were not afraid.

The eighth grade basketball team went undefeated for the season. Our class football team also had a perfect record—3 losses and no wins. Strangely enough, Chip Breeden didn't like girls that year, but the best was yet to come.

Jack Lowe moved to town for our ninth grade year. Among other headlines, Lewis Roberson made history by becoming the first four letter manager at James Monroe. Preston Burns began his varsity career in golf and was the first of many class of '65 members to earn varsity letters. Class officers for that year were: Stuart Jones, president; Jay Ventura, vice president; Pat Wholey, secretary, and Ann Simpson, treasurer.

All sophomores who took Latin can remember their precision drilling to and from class. Also, the study of Romeo and Juliet enlightened many literature students in many ways. Stuart Jones was a starter on the football team that year and Chip Reamy saved the J.V. District Basketball Championship game by dumping in ten points in the last two minutes. With Jack Lowe as president, Stuart Jones as vice president, Becky Ingalls as secretary, and Chip Reamy as treasurer, we had a successful year. The girls' hockey team beat Stafford for the first time!

Class History

Junior Class officers were George Mann, president; Chip Breeden, vice president; Brenda Keister, secretary; and Ann Simpson, treasurer. That year we received our class rings and shared more responsibilities, both in studies and in activities. Many boys participated on the district tri-champion football team in the first part of the year. While decorating for the prom, a new team emerged, using the gold "grape" balloons as footballs. They successfully harassed all progress. On the day after that fabulous prom, those responsible juniors who cleaned up decorations topped off everything with a wild feast of left-over cookies and ginger ale.

Boys' State representatives were Greg Parker, Jack Lowe, Preston Burns, and George Nance. Peg Cullen, Carolyn Jones, and Ann Earnhardt went to Girls' State. Judy Higgins spent a summer in Germany as a foreign exchange student.

In our senior year, we have been led with dignity by president Ed Chewning, vice president Bill Moore, secretary Joan Critz, and treasurer Ann Simpson. Greg Parker has most capably presided over the student body and will be forever remembered for his introduction of Mr. Sullins' Big Announcement.

King Chip Breeden and Queen Ann Simpson reigned over the Homecoming Court. With Ann as Tish and John Bradshaw the male lead, our Senior Class Play, "Tish" ranked as one of the best. Again, the play was directed under the expert guidance of Mrs. Lee-Wingate Pappandreou.

Another successful fund-raising project was the Senior Class Supper with good food for all. The colossal production of "Off Broadway" was presented as the Senior Variety Show. Jackie Pates, the winner of this year's grand prize in the Kiwanis Talent Show, gave her harp solo which was applauded along with many other fine acts. All seniors can remember the sparkling incidents which didn't pass the show's board of censors; such as the "unusual" trio on the street, the broken egg, and the behind-the-screen shadow dance.

The track team took another district championship with Stuart Jones and Mike Ferguson both setting records. The golf team conquered all district opponents again.

Everyone is now looking forward to the New York trip and our visit to the World's Fair. We sincerely regret that James Monroe next year will be without the able services of Mr. Howard Sullins, our esteemed principal, whose un-failing guidance has been a major factor in our outstanding achievements during our high school years.

The Senior Class also thanks the juniors for a great prom, and we hope that they, and all other seniors-to-be will have had as happy a class history at James Monroe as the Class of 1965.

A JOURNEY INTO THE FUTURE

We jumped into Mary-Ellen's new 1984 Volkswagon from KING Motors. She had just been rooked by Lovable LARRY in one of his famous Give-Away Sales! As we were pulling out of the lot, we waved goodbye to ROBIN WRIGHT who was working as a clerk-typist. Vacation time had finally arrived and the three of us: BRENDA KEISTER, MARY-ELLEN WELLS, and ANN EARNHARDT were going to spend a couple of days together.

All of our friends of the Class of 1965 had succeeded in their careers. In fact, many of them were the dynamic leaders of our nation's capitol. We headed our heap for Washington where we were going to visit some of our old classmates. As we drove over the Falmouth Bridge, we recognized JAMES SELF, a Vepco lineman up a light pole, JACK ALLISON, an electrical consultant, yelled instructions from below.

As we entered Interstate 96, we saw our old friend CHIP BREEDEN supervising the construction of a cloverleaf. JIM RICE, master draftsman, watched the progress of his latest engineering feat.

Approaching the metropolis, we passed JOHN CANNON's multi-million dollar "8 Course Meal in a Capsule" Factory. TOMMY KEYES, Transportation Manager, was overseeing the loading of five-pound boxes of beef and potato pills. Each capsule was temptingly and artistically wrapped by LEE HARRIS.

By this time, we were all starving. We stopped by the Greasy Fork, owned jointly by JOHN LIPPINCOTT and THERESA STONE. PAT HAYNES, hostess, was very apologetic when we informed her that Brenda had broken a tooth on a hamburger.

Immediately, we rushed Brenda to the office of GREG PARKER, one of Washington's most successful dentists. His medical secretary, KAY HAYMES, greeted us. As we left the office we were almost trampled by DR. JAY VENTURA, noted pediatrician. He and PEGGY CULLEN, his chief nurse, were pursuing one of their young patients. DR. BOBBY KASH and his nurse JOAN CRITZ looked on, seemingly entertained by the daily spectacle. Lining the corridor, watching DR. VENTURA sprint down the hall were nurses, MARY JANE LOWERY, MARLENE BERRY, DIANE ESTES, CHERYL LAYTON, RITA SULLIVAN, NANCY PERRY, JO ANN HUFF, and MARCIA LEONARKIS, who shouted encouragement.

Leaving JAY and PEGGY, we walked past the Lab where assistants PAT WHOLEY, JUDITH CHRISTIAN, and SHARON ATKINS were trying to prick JOHN SIMPSON's finger while MARIE YEAGER and DR. JOHN HEARD held him down. While on his way to the track, JOHN SIMPSON, famous stock car driver, had been run off the road by a little old lady. We were relieved to learn from PEG DAVENPORT, physical therapist, that our old classmate was not badly injured.

Pulling out of the parking lot, we waved to PEYTON ROACH who was taking a traffic count. This data would be used by computer expert, JIM WHITAKER, chief of the newly created Bureau of Traffic Light Placement.

While cruising down Constitution Avenue, we saw BOBBY HOLLOWAY directing the construction of the National headquarters of the Mars to Venus Travel Agency. This ultra-modern structure was designed by MIKE SHIBLEY, architect, and draftsmen, DICKIE COLEMAN, MIKE FERGUSON, and WESLEY TYREE. In charge of the wiring of the huge building were CABELL NELSON, chief electrical engineer, and his able assistants ROBERT KELLER, GENE SELF, GARY SNELLINGS, ROBERT TINGLER, BOB DICKEY, AUSTIN PAYNE, and DONALD PARKER. We were greeted by WILLIAM CAMPBELL, PHIL BARKER, and JERRY THOMPSON, engineers who were inspecting the plumbing facilities. EDWIN CHEWNING, aerospace engineer, came to look over the site of his new office. We learned from him that three of the agency's top interplanetary pilots were HUNTER WILLIS, RONNIE SUMLER, and PAUL STREHAN.

We stopped by the National Art Gallery and joined a tour. To our pleasant surprise, MYRNA LANCASTER was conducting the tour of the modern arts section. Here we saw a display of PATSI BUTLER's charcoals and an exhibit of BRENDA LEWIS's oil masterpieces.

As we passed the Peace Corps Headquarters, we met DANENE DABEL, SALLY ANDREWS, and LINDA HOUGH who had just returned from a disaster area on Jupiter. Just entering the building were ROBERT NEWTON and PAT KEAVENY, civil service workers.

Walking by the Treasury Department we met ANNE-MARIE DICKINSON and KENT CUEMAN, mathematicians. They were just returning from a meeting with Secretary of the Treasury HERBIE COVER. HERBIE was conducting the monumental task of computing the national debt. He had enlisted the aid of BEVERLEY GARNETT and G. G. SNELLINGS, I.B.M. experts, and accountants, DONALD BACH, RONNIE LONG, JOHN ELLIS, PETE MARSHALL, STUART JONES, BILL MOORE, FRAN McCALLEY, and MARILYN LITTEK.

Prophecy

We were glad to see SANDRA WRIGHT, CAROL BOUTYARD, CYNTHIA GREEN, JOYCE DECATUR, JANE GARNETT, PAT GREGORY, DIANNE FISHER, RONNIE LEE SILVER, and NANCY NOBLES, government secretaries. The girls extended us a cordial invitation to the Executive Ball that evening. This annual party was being thrown by BETSY SHELTON, socialite and millionairess.

Naturally we accepted their invitation, for Betsy's parties were the highlights of the social season. We scurried off to the beauty parlor where we had our hair done by JEANNIE DENNING and VICKIE WALTHER. Next we headed for the exclusive gown salon operated by JANIS MILLER, JAN ASHBY, and CHRISTINE MILLER. Here, we met WILLIAM HENRY LIMBRICK, buyer of exotic material such as the native product lunar lace. The shop was buzzing with talk of the last Red Skin game in which GARY LEITCH and STEVE JENKENS had executed a startling new play developed by Coach LEWIS ROBERSON.

Later that night the three of us excitedly entered the Black-out Room, the scene of the ball. The owners of this elaborate establishment, JIM SIMPSON and MIKE GARNETT, introduced us to the eminent guests. Among the dignitaries, were anti-trust lawyers ANN SIMPSON and ROBERT GREEN, who were engaged in a heated conversation with steel magnate PRESTON BURNS. Mr. Burns' legal advisor, ELLIOT BLATT and his private secretary, ELAINE ATKINS, were defending their client. Also present were Agricultural Research Scientists SALLY COOKE, ROBERTA NEWTON, GEORGE NANCE, PHILIP WHILTSHIRE, and JOHN BRADSHAW. GEORGE MANN and LYNN MYER, Virginia's distinguished Senators, were also present. They were conversing with DENNIS SMITH, one of the capitol's most enterprising lobbyists. We went over to congratulate our prosperous friend NED SKINNER. He had just been elected President of the Brotherhood of Licensed Funeral Home Directors and Morticians.

JOHN WAYNE EDWARDS, syndicated cartoonist, was amusing the other guests by drawing caricatures. Some noted artists had been brought in to entertain for the party. Among the performers were PAT ROGERS, comedian, BARBARA HASLER, impressionist, and JACKIE PATES, harpist and pianist. JOHN HATHAWAY, a professional gambler, was amusing a group of ladies with card tricks. Secretaries, PAT POWELL, PAULA HAMILTON, KATHY VINT, CONNIE MONTGOMERY, JANICE WILLIAMS, SHERRY MINOR, DOTTIE GALLAHAN, BRENDA HOLMES, and RICKIE WITHERS were clustered around John watching his fascinating performance. The evening was concluded by dancing to the music of MIKE PRUETT and the Rocket Set.

After this gala affair, we hurried home to the Asteroid Hotel. We were met by the manager HOWARD WHITE and his assistant LEON FRAZIER. They informed us that we had received a message during our absence. We were shocked and thrilled to find that it was an invitation to a private audience with the President of the United States. We had planned to return the next day to our regular jobs, BRENDA KEISTER to Jacksonville, Florida, where she was legal secretary to lawyer CHIP REAMY, and MARY-ELLEN WELLS and ANN EARNHARDT to France where they served as good will ambassadors.

The next morning we were doubly glad that we were able to stay. A national teacher's convention was in progress, and we ran into some of our old friends. Entering the convention hall were college professors CAROLYN JONES, LARRY HALL, and RANDY HUME. A number of high school teachers were comparing their discipline problems with harrowing tales of student rebellion. Among the group were old cohorts CANDY HILLDRUP, BOBBY BAKER, RICHARD DELARBER, ANNE BEVERLEY JONES, BECKY INGALLS, LINDA KLEFF, MARY JANE PITTS, and DAVID CATES. Heading the elementary delegation were SHARON BRYANT, CAROLYN WHITE, CAROL LIMBRICK, NANCY CAMPER, and CAROL GALLAHAN. Last but not least, we ran into JUDY HIGGINS, exchange teacher to Germany, and SHERRY LANCASTER, librarian.

After chatting with our former classmates, we hurried on to our meeting. As we entered the White House Grounds, we watched FRED NUGENT, Official Standard Bearer, raise the United States Flag. We were greeted at the front door by Hostess BECKY KAIN, who escorted us to the Presidential office. JENIFER HIGGINS, the secretary to the President, welcomed us and announced our presence.

With excitement and anticipation we prepared ourselves to meet our nation's leader. Magestically JENIFER threw open the door and ushered us into the office. The President rose, smoothed his curly hair, and advanced toward us. We greeted our old classmate, ALONZO JACK LOWE, now the 41st President of the United States of America.

So it has been prophesied and so it shall be. Signed on this the twenty-fifth day of May, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and sixty-five, at James Monroe High School by

Greg Leads SCA To

James Monroe's leaders are found in the SCA. The SCA consists of five officers: president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, reporter; a representative from each homeroom, and club representatives. This year the SCA sponsored the annual magazine drive from which the school received part of the money. The assembly programs, enjoyed by everyone during the year, were arranged by the SCA. The 1964-65 council voted to make an annual contribution of $100.00 to the student loan fund. In April, elections were held to provide for an equally good SCA next year. The SCA sponsors the foreign exchange student and hopes to have one for session 1965-66.

NHS

The National Honor Society is an honorary organization consisting of outstanding sophomore, junior, and senior students. Members are selected by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Sophomore members must have a 92 average and must maintain a 90 average. All members must have no grades below "S" in attitude and conduct. A highlight of the school year is the assembly held during American Education Week when new members are tapped. The club also sponsors an honor study hall during both lunch shifts.

Key Club

The Key Club is an organization sponsored by the Fredericksburg Kiwanis Club. It is open to those sophomore, junior, and senior boys who are outstanding in their school work and have excellent qualities of leadership. The principal purposes of the Key Club are to promote and develop qualities of leadership among members while providing services to the school and community. This year the club has achieved its purposes through its many activities. Some of them include: constructing the JM on the canal bank, selling drinks at track meets, initiating the Mystery Yellow Jacket contest, selling basketball programs, helping with the Kiwanis Talent Show and aiding in many fund raising drives.

Debate

Jim questions Kent's assertions.

Debating skill depends on extemporaneous speaking and instant recall of facts. Many hours of study are necessary before the debating season begins.

Kent Cueman and Ed Jones had a 3-1 record in district competition and a 6-1 tournament record.

Jim Whitaker and Speight Overman were district champions in debate, also with a 3-1 record and with a 5-2 tournament record.

The French Club is designed to teach conversational French. To develop fluency, meetings are conducted in French. Through speeches, slides, and games in French, members learn about the culture and entertainment of the natives of France. The major project of the club this year was a French Christmas Party. Each member must have a genuine interest and desire to learn the language and to participate in any extra-curricular activities which the club may undertake. Each year the seniors, who have paid their dues and not missed more than two meetings, are eligible to buy a French Club pin or charm. Officers are elected each spring.

Kent Wins Grand Prize At Science Fair

The purpose of the Science Club is to introduce students to varied aspects of science and to generate interest in science throughout the student body. The club's activities include touring various industrial, scientific, and educational establishments in the area; sponsoring the science fair; and inviting various scientists to speak before the club. This year the Science Club toured the American Viscose Plant of FMC.

FTA

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is to prepare those students who are interested in a career in teaching. The members hear guest speakers, see films and participate in discussions to acquaint them with the responsibilities and the duties of a teacher. The annual tea for the Fredericksburg teachers was held in the fall, and the banquet for the club members was given in the spring. Also, this year some of the members took over homeroom period for the teachers during American Education Week. To raise money, two bake sales were held and both were successful. The year ended with the presentation of pins or charms to the Seniors.

FHA

This year's FHA theme was "Keep Virginia Beautiful." One of the club's main goals was litter prevention. In addition to monthly programs, the members participated in a variety of special activities. A bake sale and candy sale were held as fund-raising projects. Among the highlights of the year were a federation picnic, a visit to VEPCO and a cover dish supper. Climaxing the year's activities was a FHA Spring Rally held at T. Benton Gale Junior High School. The organization was led this year by Rita Sullivan, Marlene Berry, Donna Harris, Janis Miller and Diane LeCouteur.

Jayem Pays Tribute to Mr. Sullins

For eleven years Mr. Howard O. Sullins has served as principal of James Monroe High School. He has made James Monroe a school of which its students could be proud. Under Mr. Sullins's guidance, James Monroe has extended its curriculum, its sports program, and emphasized extra-curricular activities such as debate. During his tenure, Jayem students have gained state and national recognition for scholarship, athletics and forensic achievement.

This year, 1965, Mr. Sullins leaves James Monroe to assume the superintendency of Stafford County Schools. The students of James Monroe expressed their appreciation of Mr. Sullins's long service to the school in an assembly program. Greg Parker, SCA president, presented the student body's gift, a silver service, to Mr. and Mrs. Sullins. The MONROE ECHO would also pay tribute to Mr. Sullins and wish him success in his new position.

The entire illustration is composed of various geometric shapes and lines, creating a complex, layered effect.

Now what?

Now that you have graduated you must answer the inevitable question—"now what?" For all of you it means the continuation of studies in one way or another, because learning must and will continue throughout your lives.

In the years to come you may have no more report cards or examinations, but everything you do will be judged realistically. Your preparation for every goal will be carefully watched, thoughtfully evaluated.

Your courses have given you the tools for thought and judgment. They will serve you well, whatever the future has in store for you.

Here at American Viscose we owe much of our progress to the adoption of new ideas, new improved methods and fresh approaches brought to us by young people like yourselves who never learned to stop learning.
